

BORING FOR OIL
ON ATHABASCAVon Hammerstein Struck a Natural Gas Flow Which Threw Water 60 Ft High

Count Von Hammerstein, who has been boring for oil for several years in the vicinity of Fort McMurray, on the Athabasca river, 450 miles north of Edmonton, purposes continuing the operations this year. A party left Athabasca last night for the North, but the party and the equipment which was discontinued during the winter. Von Hammerstein's boring rig is located on the Athabasca, on the east side of the river. The outfit consists of a 25-ton engine, a separator and boiler and a drilling parapetum.

Not Discouraged.

These oil-boring operations in the vicinity of Fort McMurray have not prospered for several years. Oil has not yet been struck, but the prospects are sufficiently promising to attract investors and capital and to encourage the continuance of the operations by those who inaugurate them. Count Von Hammerstein may be said to be the pioneer in the oil-boring business in the North country. He has a large interest in the vicinity of Fort McMurray, and that he is not discouraged with his operations is evident in the significance of the fact that there is some good and sufficient reason for his return to the Athabasca. On April 1, when the great oil fields of Canada are located, purchasing additional and modern boring machinery.

Natural Gas at 600 Feet.

When boring operations at St. George Island were discontinued at St. George Island, a depth of 600 feet had been reached. At 600 feet an immense flow of natural gas was discovered, but when the oil was struck, the pressure of the flow was sufficient to throw water 60 feet high.

Von Hammerstein's is the only oil-boring outfit in the vicinity of Fort McMurray. His outfit, which is located in the Fort is another rig, which is being operated by a man named Bennett, who has been working for Von Hammerstein in 1905, and commenced the first-boring operations. They removed the equipment there in 1906, and the early part of 1908, when Von Hammerstein decided to seek fresh fields. The oil, he said, was discovered down the river at the Island. Bennett continues the original well.

Struck Two Seas of Salt.

Birkett, who discontinued the operations last fall, Bennett has reached a depth of 900 feet. At 700 feet a small flow of gas was struck. Bennett also struck a sea of salt, which is as thick with the feet between them. In this country salt is a valuable commodity, and when the oil is struck, oil, his operations will not by any means be valuable. Bennett has not yet arrived at Athabasca. Landing, but he is expected shortly.

E. H. Sharpe, Superintendent of the Company, is now in the city, visiting various oil fields, and will be thick with the feet between them. In this country salt is a valuable commodity, and when the oil is struck, oil, his operations will not by any means be valuable. Bennett has not yet arrived at Athabasca. Landing, but he is expected shortly.

READS RELIGIOUS WORKS IN PREFERENCE TO NOVELS

Harry Orchard, the man whom the State depends in its case against President Haywood, of the Western Federation of Miners, for murder of ex-Governor, is interviewed in his cell. Does not talk of Case.

Boise, Idaho, May 16.—Harry Orchard, the prison-wards, of the State of Idaho, recently refused to prove its charge that an entire circle of the Western Federation of Miners, including the former governor Frank Steunenberg, broke his long silence to-day and more than half a dozen of his friends and his imprisonment with representatives of the Associated Press.

Orchard said that force or any other means were applied to him during his confinement with the purpose of extracting from him a confession. He made and denied that Detective McFarland and the state officers prompted him to make the statement of his guilt, and the value of his alleged confession. Orchard's manner was so quiet that he seemed to confirm the assertion that he had been converted to Christianity. He asked to be excused from telling what he had been born, and what his church might be.

In a Secret Cell.

"Yes, I have done an immense amount of reading, most of it has been ecclesiastical and religious. I used to read a great deal of other literature, but I have given up that now." "Why did you change?" asked one of the interviewers.

Orchard said a moment and then, in a quiet voice, said: "It is like a little boy who always likes to play with his toy, but when he suddenly decides to tell the truth. That is the way I can explain the change. I have never been a better kind of boy, but now I don't care for such trash." "It is like a person who has been born, and what his church might be.

As a precautionary measure the actual trial of the man who is to be tried for the killing of Governor Steunenberg was adjourned to the 10th of June, and the trial is to be held on that date.

Orchard is sound in mind and clear and is able to talk. He was not imposed on today's interview by Warden Whitney, the Idaho penitentiary, who was there to observe the case. The prisoner himself asked that this condition be observed, and Warden Whitney's private office for the interview.

Orchard's Appearance.

As far as appears he might travel in as way in life, except the one he has been through.

STREET PAVING
IN FULL SWING

Big Gang of Men are now at Work on McDougall Street.

Street paving has commenced in earnest. For some time the W. H. Harvey Co. has been at work, but everything has been mostly preliminary to the work of paving, which was commenced yesterday morning at 9:30 a.m. on McDougall avenue, south of the city.

The surface earth had to be removed and all the civic services in connection with the paving had to be closed with the paving, but now that they have got a start the work of paving is well under way.

The company has 75 men at work, and they will continue to do the work, but everything has been mostly preliminary to the work of paving, which was commenced yesterday morning at 9:30 a.m. on McDougall avenue, south of the city.

STRATHCONA NEWS

'SCONA'S DRIVEWAY TO COST $112,000

The City Engineer Makes a Report on the Extension of Saskatchewan Avenue.

The extension of Saskatchewan avenue along the north and west sides of the city will be the most prominent feature in the system of city beautifications that has engaged the attention of the city council during the last two months.

This proposed improvement to the city was this spring first mentioned in the council by a letter from Mayor Mills some time ago, and since then he has kept it prominently before the public.

When the proposed extension is opened up and bounded by a drive, it will be a wide and dignified road.

Some time ago the city engineer, A. J. McLean, was asked to report to the council on the extension, and he has done so in the following:

Engineer's Report.

"In company with Mayor Mills I examined Saskatchewan avenue from Cypress Dragoon street and the proposed extension from the latter street to the western limits of the city, and made a sketch of the proposed drive and approximate estimate of cost.

The accompanying plans show in red the present avenue and proposed extension—total distance of 4 1/4 miles.

"In my estimate I have calculated for a fifty foot drive and roadway, a six-foot plant walk and timber curb on each side of the driveway, making a total width of 102 feet.

The ravine at the intersection of Niblock street and Saskatchewan avenue is to be filled in, a seven-foot foot walk plant and timber curb on each side of the roadway and handrails. This would meet the requirements of the city engineer, and there will be no run of water to provide for, the ravine can be gradually filled to the full width of the avenue.

Two Routes May be Chosen.

At Dugan street two routes may be considered for running the roadway—either one on the right of way of Niblock street—by jogging abruptly to the right to avoid Mr. Montgomery's lot and the ravine, or a straight line through the ravine along the hill and over Queen street. This ravine would be 100 feet wide and 100 feet deep, a height of thirty feet. Estimating for a eighty-foot-wide drive in width, I would estimate the cost at $12,500.

The other route between these points which I have shown on plan, and which is also shown at the Queen street, thence across block C with a cost of $12,500, would be along Dugan street, and the ravine, and the northern boundary of right of way of the C. P. R., to West street. While this would be a straight line through the ravine, the cost would not exceed 50 per cent. of the cost of the first route, as the Dugan street driveway and boulevard would cross the land owned by Mr. Dugan, and the cost of the land on West avenue I believe the depth of cutting on the C. P. R. line to be 100 feet. High level bridge is about 100 feet, and it is necessary to make provision at this point for a steel span with concrete piers. In order to reduce the cost of this overhead bridge much, it would be well to have the bank in following across lots 2, 3, 5 and 6 in Block 150 I would recommend that the bridge be built across St. Albert street at the top of the bank on the west side of this street, and the length of the span would be reduced one-half and the crossing be nearly at right angles to the street.

From St. Albert street to the west limits of the city, the following route would be crossed—Gatineau sub-division—sub-division by Province River lot 3, lately purchased by the University of Alberta, river lot 3, the Hubbell sub-division, and portion of the northern portion of section 24.

The proposed extension west of West street there are no deep ravines or depressions calling for any right of way, and the cost would not be estimated for any right of way, as I understand the greater portion of the land is owned by the University.

The balance will probably be donated before construction begins.

On clear land, grade and level the driveway, construct two berms, plant and plank, and lay two bridges and form the south side for the entire length, the approximate width of the driveway.

Estimated Cost.

Clearing and grubbing two clear miles $ 250

Graveling 4 1/2 miles 5,540

Concrete 45,144

Graveling 4 1/2 miles 41,550

Wire Fencing 500

Plank 100

Pipe Bridge 850

Engineering and contingencies 10,000

Total $112,504

All the work, indicated in this estimate, would not be undertaken at once, but it would be advisable to provide for a right of way, and provide funds for the early commencement of the clearing, grubbing and grading, and the laying of the berms and fencing. These improvements should cost $10,000.

The roadway will be 102 feet wide.

The r.c.m.t. was discussed at the last council meeting and adopted, the motion being that the roadway be built at Dugan street being chosen. The Public Works Committee were asked to report on the cost of the land for the driveway and report as early as possible.

THE RECORD ADMIRAL FURNACE

possesses one of the largest feed doors of any furnace manufactured. The advantages of this are obvious when one considers that, with such a door, it is possible to use large, rough and unmerchantable wood. The construction of the "Admiral" is such as to permit of either wood or coal being used. The only change necessary when using wood is the insertion of a perforated metal wire-grate, which is easily placed inside the grates, or removed, according to the fuel used.

BORROWING FEAR.

The Canoe Mail says that it was the provincial government that raised the question of municipal rights versus provincial rights. This is the first intimation that any such question was before the public in any form. The Mail commends the government for its record, but observes that they are making an error in urging towns and cities to give up their municipal telephone rights. It is misconstruing the public spirit of the Minister of Public Works to make such a statement.

It is no part of the government's policy to compete with the municipalities in the operation of telephones or any public utility that comes under the peculiar jurisdiction of municipalities.

The outstanding features of the government's policy are the establishment of trunk telephone lines, and rural lines for the convenience of the farmer. The operation of municipal telephones in towns and cities was only taken up at the solicitation of several towns in the province that were unable or too timid to undertake the construction and maintenance of local telephone exchange.

One of the first enactments of the Alberta Legislature was the Municipal Telephones Act. This act empowers every municipality to construct or purchase, maintain and operate a system of telephones and lines within its corporate limits. The municipality is further empowered to equip the system with all the necessary appliances for the convenience of business and operating the same as if it were owned and operated by a private person or a corporation. Such a statute gives the municipality full autonomy and freedom. The Government will not install nor operate a municipal system unless asked to do so by the municipality. But on the other hand, it will give a municipal system in connection with the trunk lines. The Municipality of public works is not creating a monopoly; it is smashing a monopoly and expects the municipalities to do their duty with the full faith that they will.

The Mail is borrowing fear when it says that the government will not pile up a surplus out of the provincial telephones. The government's policy and determination is to give the telephone at its actual cost to the people. Monopoly cannot live under such conditions. An honest service at an honest price is the motto of the department of public works.

SEED TIME AND HARVEST.

Seeding is well under way in Alberta despite the backward spring season and in many districts is finished. This is somewhat later than usual, and the inexperienced newcomer, might create a feeling of uneasiness and doubt as to the result of this year's crops.

It is a well demonstrated truth and emphatically asserted by all those who have intelligently and profitably followed the growing of cereals in Alberta and Western Canada that the shortness of the growing season does not operate as a good crop and that as a rule the best crops have been produced when the season is not exceptionally early or the season closed at an early date. These facts attest the theory and the knowledge long maintained by experts that cereals obtain their highest degree of perfection when grown to maturity in high latitudes. This was specifically proved as early as 1876. In that year the wheat that won the gold medal at Philadelphia Centennial was grown at Fort Chipewyan in latitude 58°.

Moreover the years of 1890, one of the poorest years in the agricultural history of Western Canada strikingly support this view. That year seeding in Manitoba was begun in March and completed early in April. In Alberta considerable seeding was done in February. That was probably the earliest spring with the highest temperature that the Canadian has experienced since the agricultural industry has become a national industrial program. In 1890, however, the average of wheat being 8.9 bushels per acre.

In the year 1891 seeding did not become general in Manitoba till about the first day of May, and a splendid average crop per acre was garnered. In 1894 seeding began in the last of April, becoming general on the 29th, and an average of 20.11 bushels was obtained throughout Manitoba.

In 1895 seeding was exceptionally early, and the general average was 16.5 bushels per acre. In 1897 seeding was general from April 1st to April 26th, and the average was 14.14 bushels per acre.

This is the explanation of the confidence of the oldtimers in the West. He is the man of practical knowledge who has learned that the best way to believe that the lateness of seeding operations this year in any of the three prairie provinces will have little to do with harvest results. His knowledge acquired by experience has shown that two of the chief factors in the successful maturing of grain are almost invariably present after a late spring. These factors are sufficient moisture which in early spring is wasted, and the young plants being exposed to the young plant embryo to maturity during a short season. Or in other words, moisture and continuity of healthy growth are the important considerations and the lateness of the season does not necessarily interfere.

If the lateness of seeding is ominous of anything it is ominous of good crop prospects and the increased acreage of new land under cultivation has many assurances.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The City Commissioners of Public Works is to have a horse. It will probably be a pacer.

Hon. R. L. Borden wants Hon. R. P. Roblin among his followers, as if Peter was not wicked enough.

There is no doubt the spring of 1897 is bushy, but then as a general rule, bushy follows turn out well.

If Sir Wilfrid Laurier were in the British Parliament, he would be Prime Minister there, too.

The total assessment of Winnipeg is $106,188,382, and the assessor places the population at 111,217.

Jacob Riis says 90 per cent. of the children of Boston never saw a robin or a dandelion. Does Roosevelt know this?

Holly Simpson, a Brandon farmer, has 600 acres of wheat sown. He should be on a valuable commodity next fall.

Mayer Lissach is following the illustrious example of Sir Charles Tupper, when he says some foolish thing he always blames it on the reporters.

An eight-inch pipe line is to be laid from the Texas oil fields across to the Isthmus of Panama, fifty-one miles long. It would be a more interesting tube if it tapped Mexico.

Roosevelt's big-stick policy seems to have put a conscience in Harriman. He has issued specific orders to the employees of the Pacific to try to be courteous to the public.

Waghorn's Guide gives the population of Calgary as 17,000, and the population of Edmonton 11,163, which looks as though Waghorn was blowing Captain's bugle. The population of both cities is not far from 20,000, and 12,000, which has since been in both cases substantially increased.

Calgary has reached out for Bowville, Hillhurst, Riverside and Broadway Flats since, but there is no justification for Waghorn's figures relatively of the two cities. Calgary is now going to take a census of its people and it will probably be "done" to a turn. In the meantime Waghorn better revise its figures.

It is alleged that the American railroads are worrying about a proposal to inquire what is the actual value of the property they hold as compared with the paper capital. Something of the kind has been going on in Minnesota, and the railroads in that state have been estimated to have an actual value of $27,000 a mile, as against $30,000 a mile estimated by the particular railroads. The Great Western, actual value $28,000 a mile, capitalization $145,688 a mile, or five times.

It is difficult to see what good all this is going to do now. Somebody got away with those four

JAPANESE TARS SEE NEW YORK

700 of Them, Accompanying
General Kuroki, Visit Giant's Tomb Instead of Bowery

New York, May 16.—While the high officers of the Japanese army and navy now the guests of New York city made official calls today on the crews of the Japanese battleships Tsukuba and Asama and a hundred in the fleet. With canes and sticks and crutches, water swaying at their sides they awakened surprise and tumult among the Americans, provided by their Americanized cousins, saw the sights with uninterested indifference. The men directed themselves, when in a manner that will remain a shining example, during July, to the giant Vice-Admiral Jinji of the Imperial Japanese navy, paid an official visit to the Adm. B. C. Collyer of the U.S. navy, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, in the afternoon. The vice-admiral was given a hearty welcome, his rank and the Japanese national air. He was greeted by Adm. McFarland and Capt. John C. Bogart. Both Admiral Coghill will return the call tomorrow morning.

With the crews of the Japanese army, and his staff, were the guests today of Commandant Hugh L. Scott, of the U.S. marine corps, in the Bronx. The party was received with military honors, witnessed parades and drills, inspection of the men, and a visit to the museum. Luncheon was served at the officers' club. The trip to West Point was made in the afternoon. The Japanese yachts Privateer and Yacht were in the fog that hung over the river, and the Japanese sailors were found a tow of coal barges. Only the seamanship of Mr. Smith, who took the Privateer to the barges, saved these aboard from a bad shad-up and possibly injury. Toward evening the fog cleared, and the party, where, at the Hotel Actor, they were the guests at a private dinner tonight, were able to get back to the ship, who remained aboard the ship today, with the exception of the Japanese.

The Japanese paid a definite compliment to American traditions. In their sight-seeing tour, they were greatly hindered this week by the high water.

seed for time, and were compelled to choose between two attractions, the dinner at the Hotel Actor and a visit of every visiting seaman, and a visit to Grant's tomb. They elected the latter. They were given a tour of the grounds and an informal "baited the Japanese with a visit to the Twenty-Second Regiment armory for luncheon and to the Hippodrome for the afternoon performance.

all the wrongs he has done, but he can at least do something to clear things up.

No Force Used on Him.

The last formal question of the interview was directly answered. "It would be a violation of my duty as a man and a soldier to use force on any man, and I am sure that you in that connection don't think I have ever used force. I don't think I have ever even made a confession," said Orchard. "Mind that at no time was I asked to do anything, nor was I forced to do anything of any kind, and anything I ever said to Captain Coghill was with the full understanding that it was of my own free will and accord."

Orchard talked in a general way about his position on the Haywood inquiry, and said that he was holding the proceedings in court with interest.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

NEW YORK STOCKS.

U. S. Bonds Decline Quarter Per Cent—Stagnant Condition Prevailed on Board Yesterday.

New York, May 16.—Stagnant conditions continued to prevail today in the securities market of the world and the market was dead. The market was inert as to leave light significance in the Paris movement which are due to the financial and industrial operations of a small professional class who seek only a quick profit on a narrow margin. The market was dead, unless, apparently, of an early revival of interest in the market. The Delaware and Hudson, the Canadian Pacific and the General Electric convertible bonds issued to attract attention to the market, were not successful in attracting capital to meet the needs of corporations. The course of the bond market was not improved by the working of the congestion of issues. The newly listed Lake Shore debenture bore significant interest in the stock exchange today by a decline to a low record figure. Current reports of large amounts of bonds and stocks which have been allotted to the Union Pacific, the Great Northern and the Northern, took the edge of the first importance of the state of that transaction which was largely a financial one. Thin money rates here were easier today. Stocks seemed comparatively free in the market, but the market was inert in the upward flight of that product, when the stock ran off on the advance which has been established. The increase in Northern Lead dividend led to profit taking in the market, but the market was inactive in the general list. Total sales put value $1,000,000. United States new bonds declined one quarter per cent on call.

NEW YORK WHEAT

Market Continues Bulbous—Bulge of Four Cents.

New York, May 16.—Wheat receipts, 20,000 bushels daily; sales, 40,000 bushels; sales, 5,100,000 bushels futures. After a week and lower opening in the market, wheat was firm, due to the dry weather in the Northwest wheat again turned strong and active. Prices were firm, but the market was inert in the various markets on the heavy contracting and outside buying and running. The market was inactive, but out with a very bullish report. Last prices were 3 1/8 to 3 1/2 net higher. May, 100 1/2 to 101 1/2; June, 100 1/2 to 101 1/2; closed 101 1/4. September, 100 to 101 1/2; closed 101 1/2. December, 100 to 101 1/2; closed 101 1/2.

Copper.

Bullion, May 16.—Copper Range Ind. took copper stocks today, rising 80 to 84 1/2, later 83 1/2. Quincy showed a net loss of 1 1/2. The market was narrow, but firm and easy.

Money on Call.

New York, May 16.—Money on call steady, but firm. One month, 4 1/2 to 5 1/2; ruling rate, 2 1/4, last loan, 3 1/4; closed 3 1/2; offered 3 1/4. Time loans, 4 1/2 to 5 1/2; offered 4 1/2; 3 3/4 to 4 per cent, and 90 days at 4 per cent; six months, 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 per cent.

CHICAGO WHEAT.

Sensational Buys Again Recorded—Weather and Insects Do Great Injury—Heavy Losses Reports from Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, May 16.—Wheat prices on the board of trade again crossed the dollar mark, reaching 90 1/2 cents a bushel, which caused a market up to 100 1/4, and December to 102. At the same time July advanced to 99 1/2. The upturn in wheat prices reflected this year's wheat crop in Europe and America would be greater below the normal owing to the favorable weather and by insects. The net for the day the July delivery was 5 to 10 cents higher than the final quotations. The September option was up to 1 1/2 and December an even cent higher.

Corn.

Corn was affected by the strength of wheat. July closed at a net half cent, while August 7 1/2 cents. Premiums to 2 1/2 to 10 cents higher. After opening weak on realizing some of the heavy losses in the market, the wheat market, at the end of the first half hour, showed a strong, but temporary, normal recovery, several leading commission houses buying freely all day, but the market was again weak as the price rallied slowly. The combined purchases of few of the leading houses were 1,000,000 bushels, aggregated between five and seven million bushels. The demand was heavy, but the market was not on the only the American but European crop as well. Russian reports being particularly pessimistic. During the last fifteen minutes of trading, by which the sellers had become less numerous, the big demand was so urgent that prices again began to leap and bounds, sometimes a quarter or half a cent higher. Price brought remote production, but the market, therefore occasioned did not effect the market, the close being strong.

NATIONAL LEAD.

New York, May 16.—The market of the National Lead Co. today declined quarterly dividend of 1/4 per cent. on the common stock. The rate, however, has been paid previously quarterly. The regular dividend of 1 1/4 per cent was declared on the preferred stock.
